

Belle was owner and operator of the Greystone Hotel in Tonopah, Nevada. She is shown in records to have been there as early as 1903. In a huge fire in October 1942 that started at the Extension mill and destroyed about three blocks of buildings, the hotel burned to the ground.

Tonopah was a Silver mining boom town. Her husband William was a miner. Her son Sheldon also lived his life in Tonopah.